PREFACE

The study of Home Economics as a distinct discipline was introduced in the country soon after Pakistan's emergence on the world's map. Initially, the University of Peshawar in collaboration with Colorado State University USA set up a separate department devoted to the subject in 1954. The department was later upgraded to the status of a College in 1963. Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II inaugurated the present building. One of the only nine Colleges in Pakistan devoted to the study of Home Economics; this college was initiated in an effort to develop a complete educational program for the preparation of young girls to meet the challenges of free society.

The institution seeks to equip young women with the specialized knowledge, skills, awareness, and the right attitude needed to launch them successfully in their social and professional lives. This field of study extends opportunities for following careers in an increasing number of professions. Therefore, it has acquired a special significance to mould the female generation, providing them with an opportunity of studying a unique blend of both science and art related subjects. This opens up future avenues for personal, professional, and social enhancement.

The College of Home Economics not only aims to turn out well-informed future mothers, but also Interior Designers, Dietitians, Textile Designers, Fashion Designers, Small Business Managers, Teachers, Event Organizers and Research Workers.

College of Home is a unique and prestigious institution of University of Peshawar. Since its Establishment in 1954, it has been instrumental in producing young entrepreneurs. It offers diverse interdisciplinary subjects and equips students with practical knowledge. It has always been my preoccupation to encourage the spirit of enquiry among students as inquisitive mindset is a prerequisite to unprecedented discoveries. Under my leadership, I hope to see tremendous progress in the field of research. Transitioning from being home maker to achieving professional excellence involves identifying inherent talent and pursuing relevant specialization.
